Your Rising Sign/ Lagna

In Vedic Astrology, the first house in the birth chart is known as Lagna or Rising Sign. It denotes the basic characteristic of the native. The ascendant describes one's personality traits and features, along with the physical attributes and beauty. Born in the Virgo Lagna, you have an air of adventure and mystery around you. You like challenges, even if they sometimes sound dangerous to your ears. Your fiery streak keeps you alive and makes you the belle of the ball wherever you go.

You have a strong personality which makes you opinionated. This comes off as a strong character trait in front of your family but does not discourage you from expressing them openly.

The answer to your Question:

Question: Will I be able to marry the guy I love?

Answer: As per your chart, Jupiter and Venus- the two significator planets of Marriage are in your favour. You have a calm attitude and are practical- the two true qualities of a Virgo. With the demeanour like yours, you don't face a hard time getting people to do what your heart desires. The combination that the planets are forming right now is super efficient for you to get what you want in life. However, there might be certain problems at the boy's end. You both will have to be patient and act accordingly. Making hasty advances will only end up in one of you getting hurt by the other. Instead of focussing on marriage, the time is in favour of your career growth.

You have a strong inclination towards your career and the time now is perfect for you to focus on your work and let other things fall into their own accord. If you worry about your relationship, you should reconsider your decision about marrying the guy. There are certain discomforts and problems indicated in your birth chart after your marriage. The remedy to combat this problem is that you focus on your work right now and get yourself into a stable position.

Your relationship at the moment is full of trials and tribulations, but with the qualities that you have- you always find that one redeeming quality in everyone and latch onto it. This habit will be taken advantage of by your partner. As per the planetary alignments, the year 2021 has strong Marriage Yogas for you. This is the most auspicious and opportune moment for you to tie the knot. Things will automatically start falling into place.

As per your Horoscope, you will be looking for a partner by the late 2020s. This infers that there are chances that your current relationship might not work. You mustn't get disheartened by this; try looking at things from a brighter perspective. In your current relationship, you never get to have the last word, but that is because you do not have a single mean bone in your body. You treat people the way you want to be treated, but this has been making you unhappy for quite a long time now. If you continue making this your habit, the time is near where you will have to make difficult choices. In your family, you are the one who gets to make decisions and thus you getting no say in your relationship will come to bite you in the back later. Do not disrespect yourself in order to get love to stay in your life.

As per your Horoscope, there is a high probability that you will go for love marriage in 2021. This union will bring wealth in your life, along with unparalleled success at your work. This will be a marriage that will keep you happy and content at all times.

In a nutshell, the best period for you to tie the knot with the love of your life will be in 2021. Before this, there will be feeble opportunities for you to get married, but things will not work in your favour. As the Year 2021 begins, you will be able to see things falling in place and working in cahoots with your happiness.
